

Quincy, Leo, Annie, and June fly all over the world looking for the perfect home for Rocket. Look at the igloo: do you think it's too hot, too cold, or just right for Rocket?

Check out all the places the team visited on their mission: which is too wet? Which home looks too crowded? Which place is just right? Yes, Leo and Annie's backyard is the perfect home for Rocket!

Rocket has lots of cool tools to help him build his house. But before he can start construction, he first needs to drill a big tunnel into the earth. Which tool do you think he should use?

Lift the flap to find out if you picked the right tool!

Now Rocket is ready to build his house, but he needs your help.
Look at the steps on the facing page. Can you help put them in order?
Which job does Rocket need to do first? Second? Third?

Lift the flap to see if you put the steps in the correct order!
