

It's spring! It's spring!

June is wearing her new spring shoes. Annie joins the birds in a springtime song. Quincy is holding Baby Tulip. Baby Tulip is very excited. It's springtime, and that's when she will bloom!

No wonder spring is her favorite season.

“Team, we have a mission!” said Leo. “Spring is here. Do you know what we have to do?”

“Yes,” said Quincy. “It’s time to plant Baby Tulip so she can grow into a beautiful flower.”

“But she wants to bloom and grow with her friends,” said Annie.

“That’s right,” replied Leo.

Then June added, “So, we need to take Baby Tulip to the Netherlands. The Netherlands is a country in Europe. They are known for growing beautiful tulips.”

Blast off to the Netherlands!

The Little Einsteins were on their way to the Netherlands, when suddenly Leo saw something.

“Oh, no,” he shouted. “There is Big Jet!”

“Big Jet has a Seasons Machine,” said Annie.

“He can use it to make any season he wants,” said Quincy.

“It’s so powerful, it can turn a hot summer day into a winter storm!”

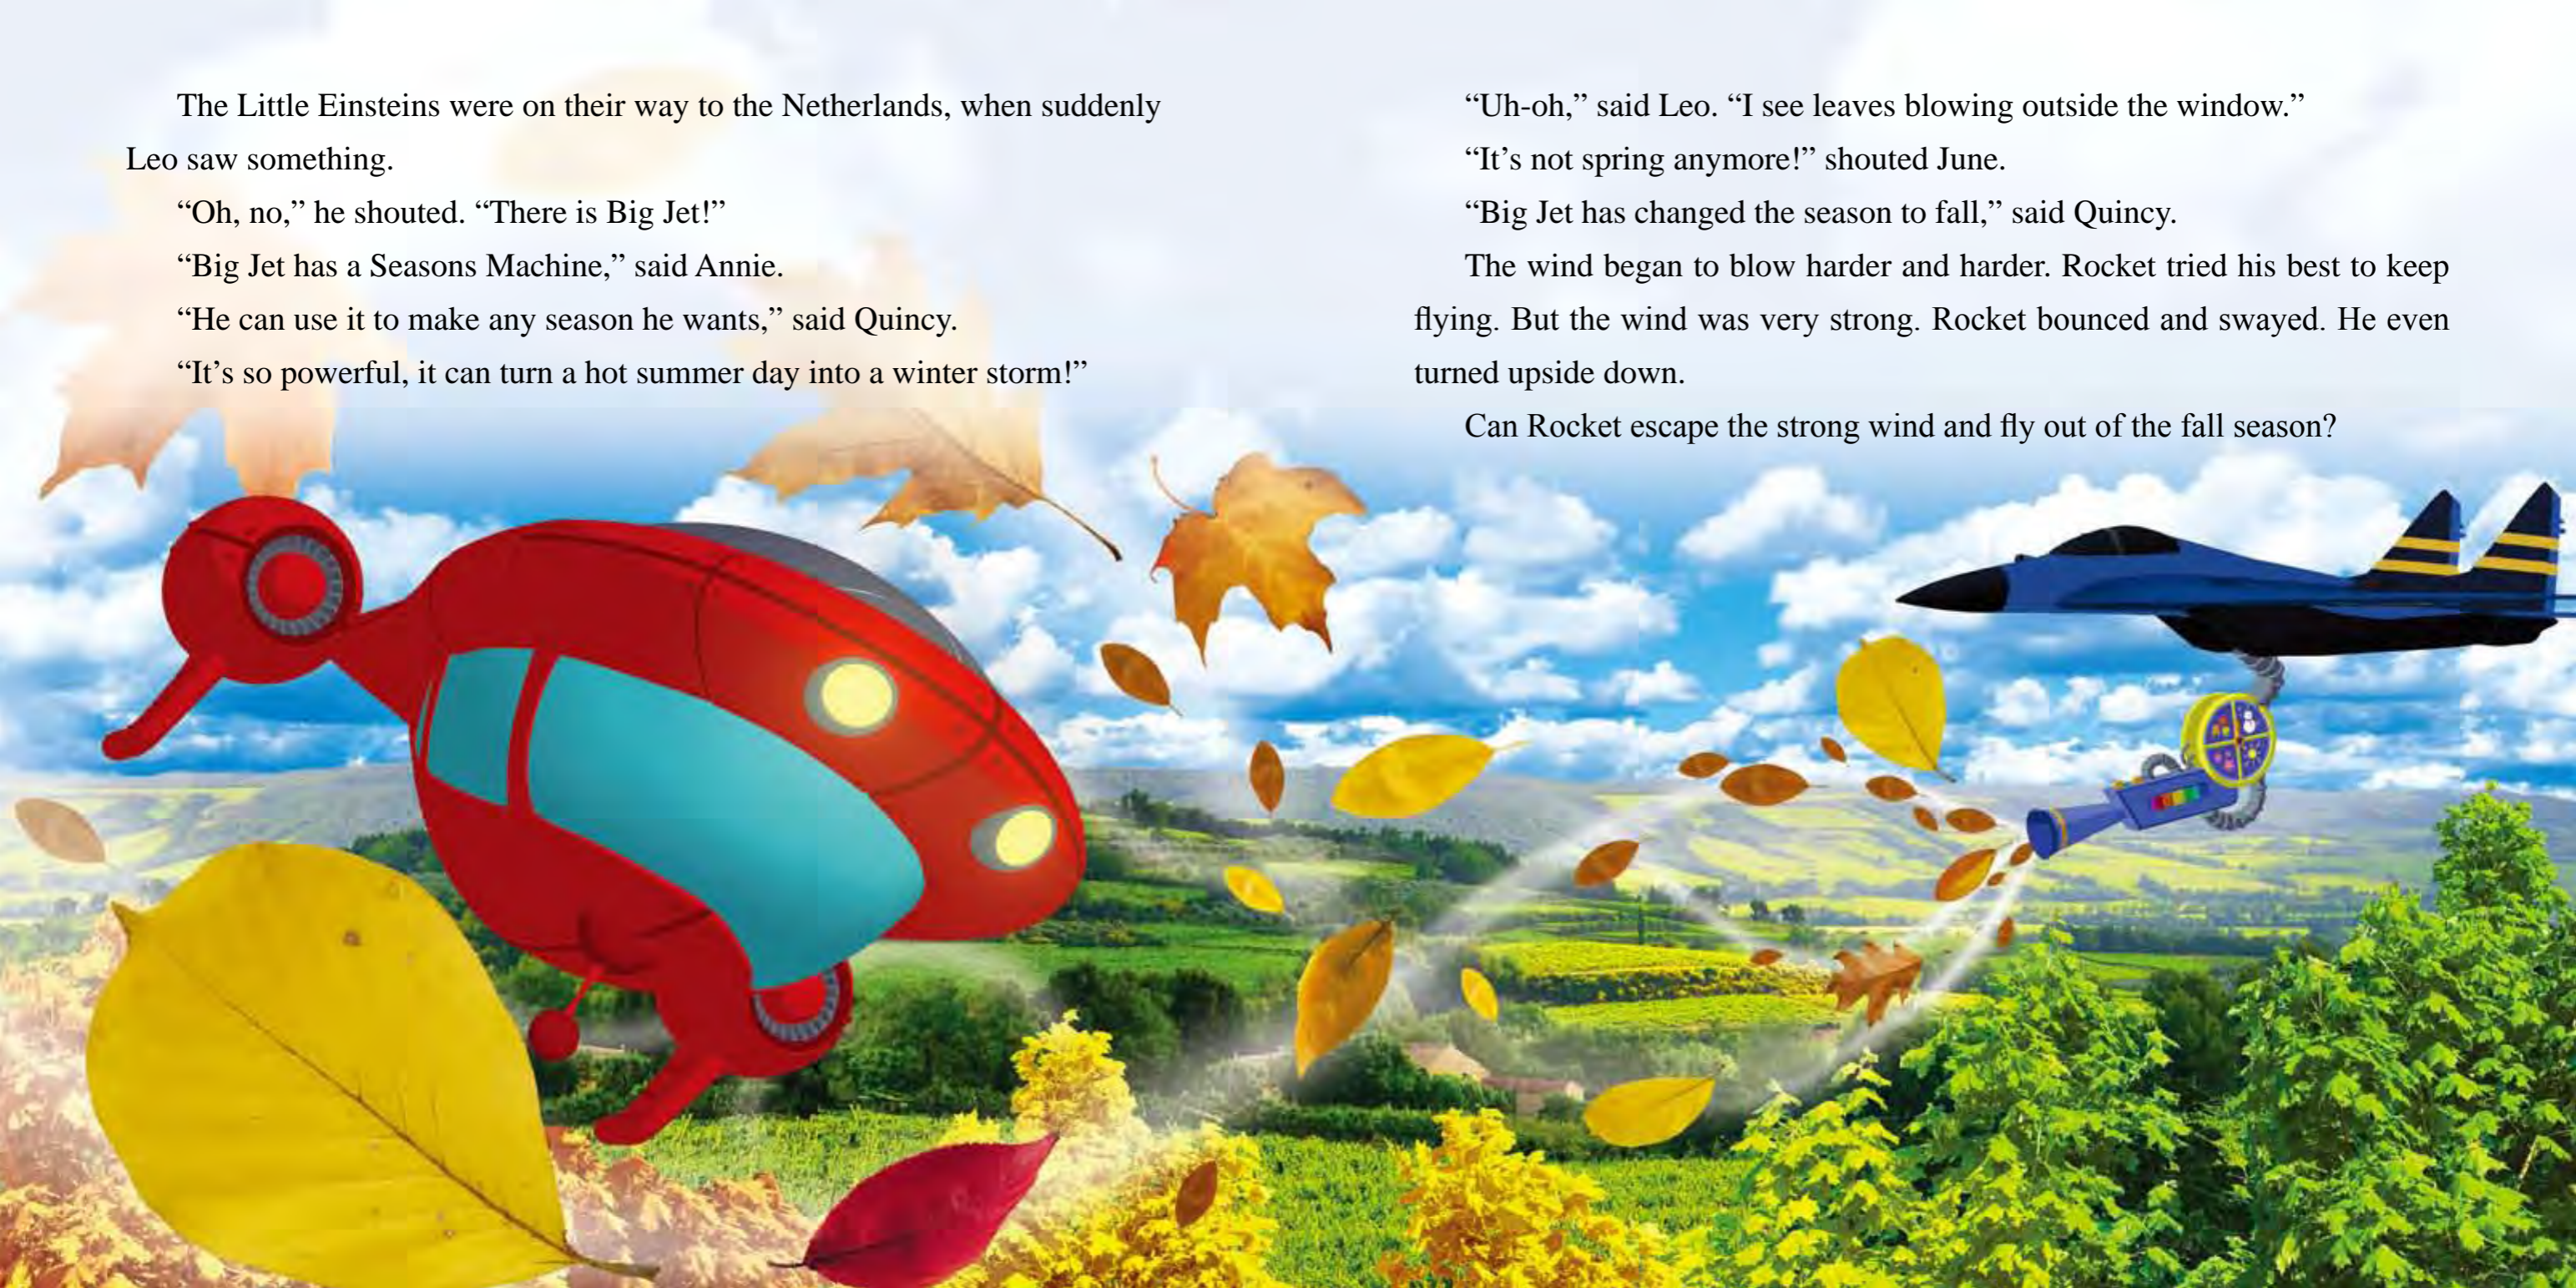

“Uh-oh,” said Leo. “I see leaves blowing outside the window.”

“It’s not spring anymore!” shouted June.

“Big Jet has changed the season to fall,” said Quincy.

The wind began to blow harder and harder. Rocket tried his best to keep flying. But the wind was very strong. Rocket bounced and swayed. He even turned upside down.

Can Rocket escape the strong wind and fly out of the fall season?

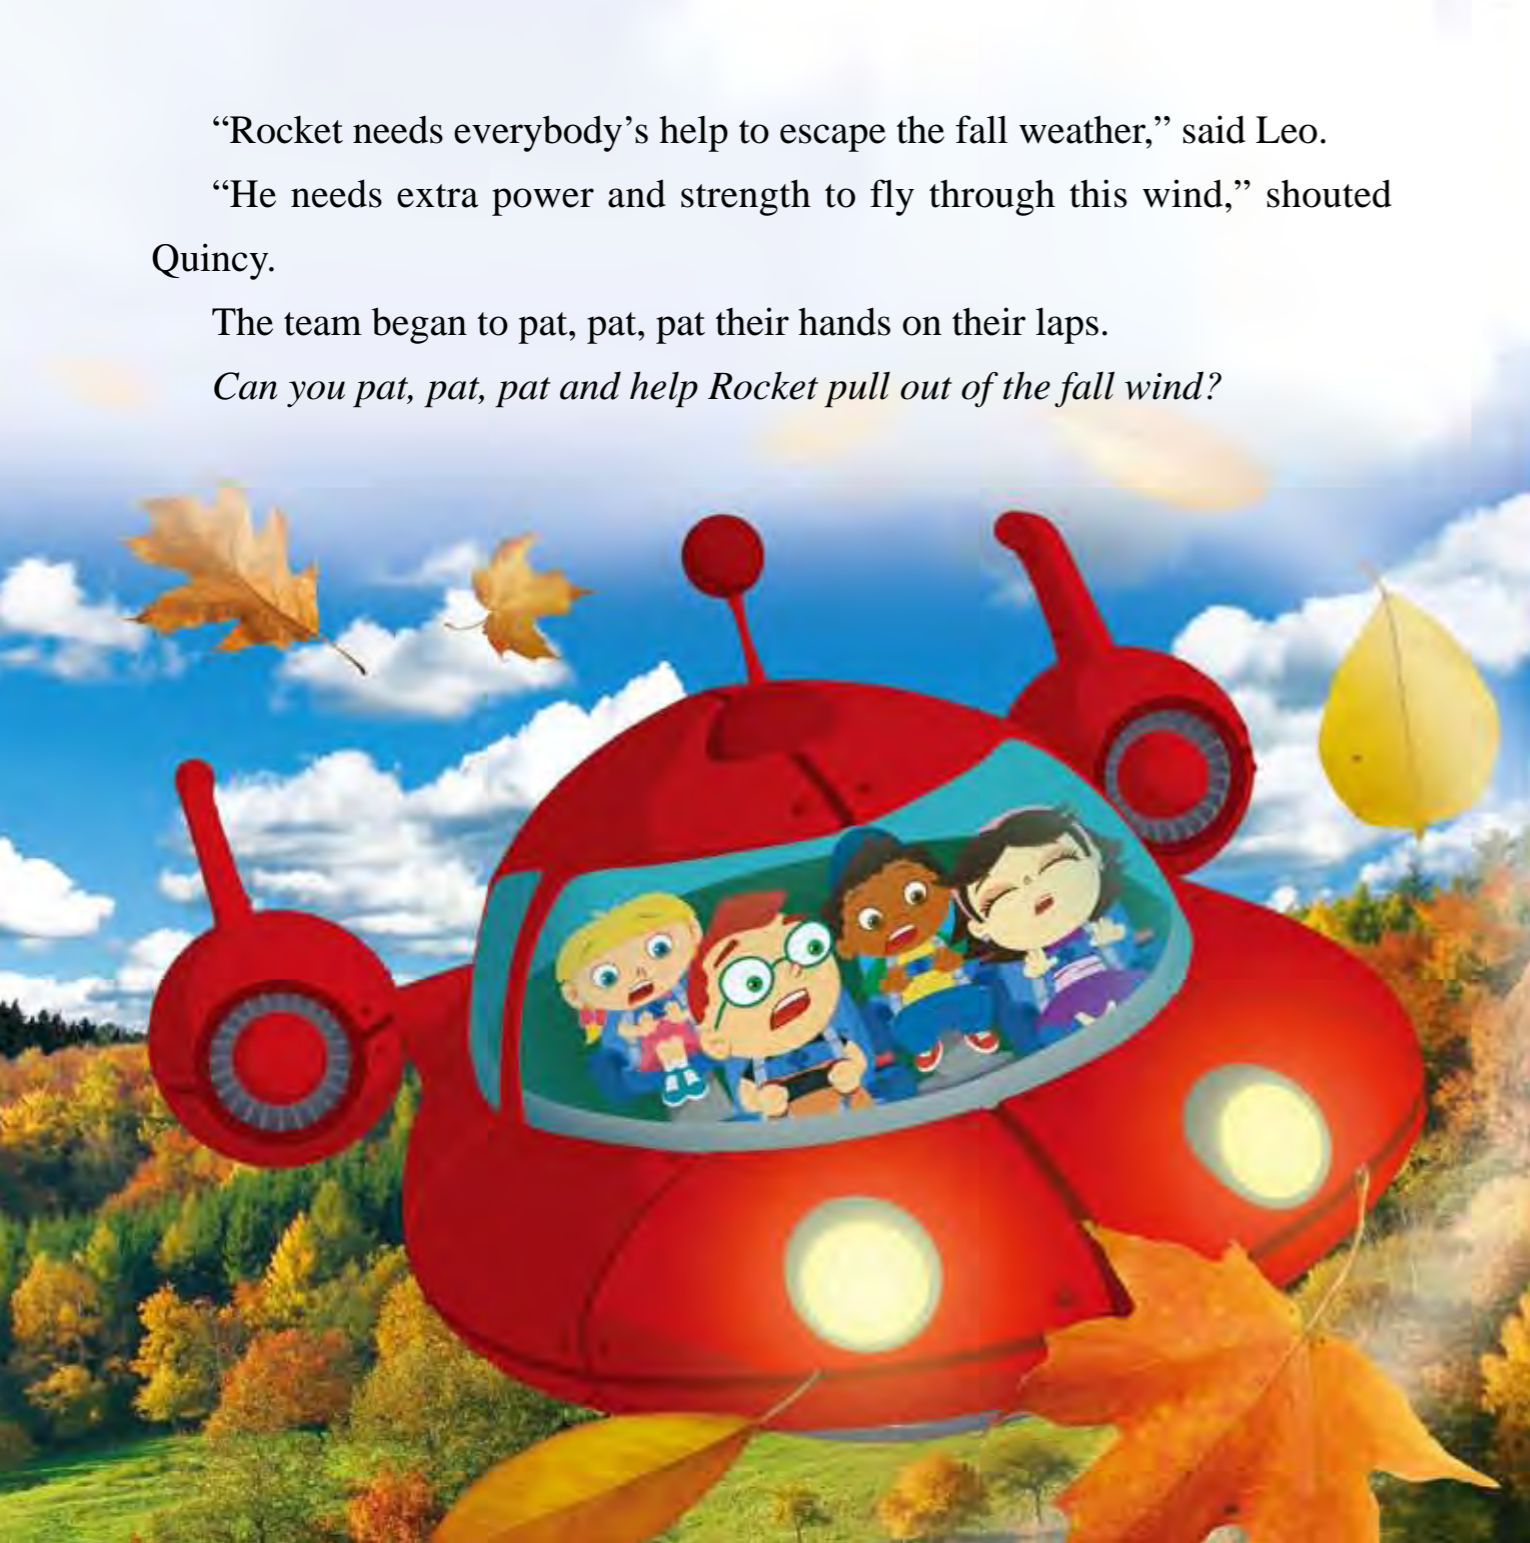

“Rocket needs everybody’s help to escape the fall weather,” said Leo.

“He needs extra power and strength to fly through this wind,” shouted Quincy.

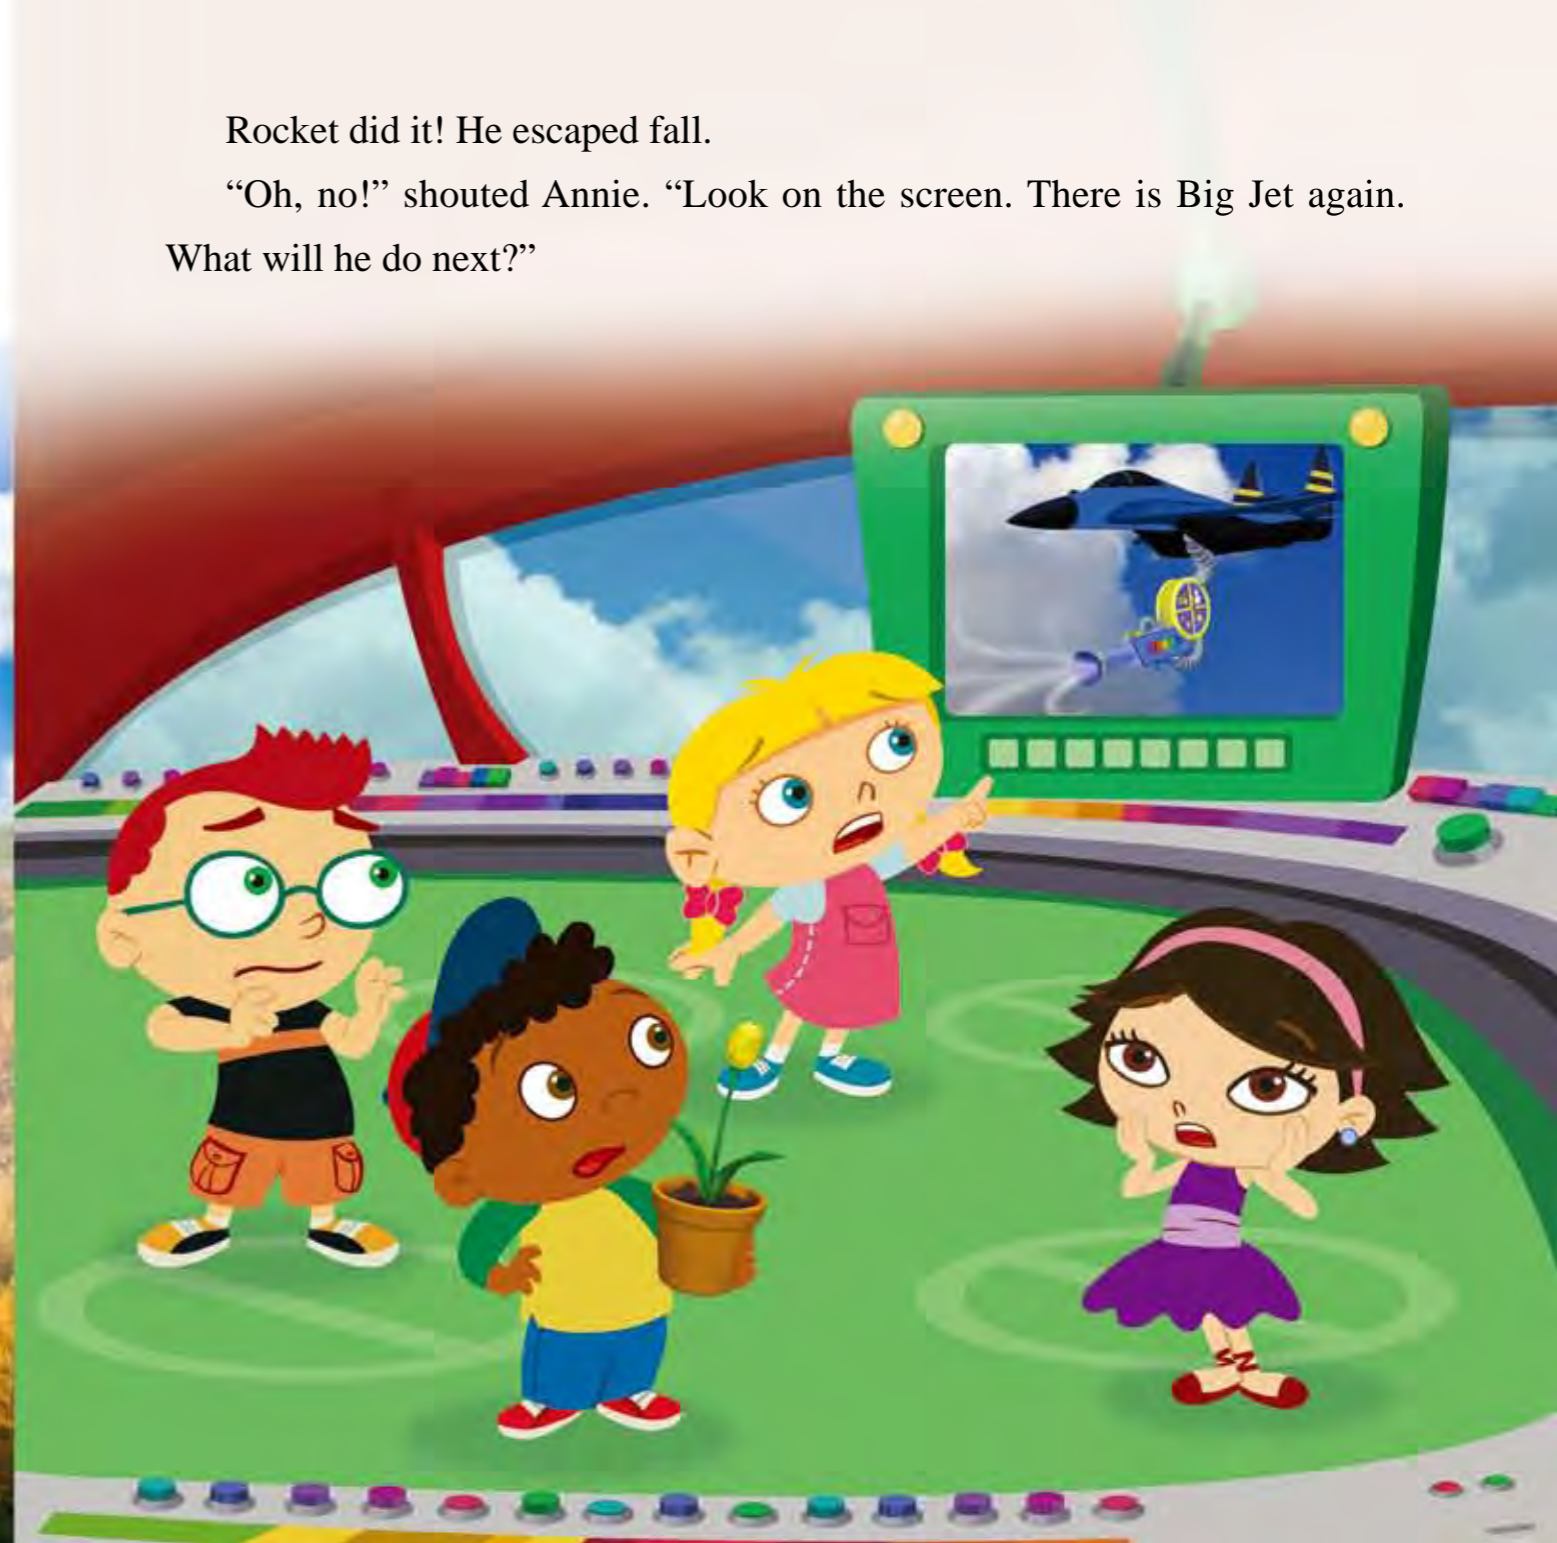

The team began to pat, pat, pat their hands on their laps.

Can you pat, pat, pat and help Rocket pull out of the fall wind?

Rocket did it! He escaped fall.

“Oh, no!” shouted Annie. “Look on the screen. There is Big Jet again. What will he do next?”

Suddenly, it became very, very hot. Big Jet used his Seasons Machine again! This time, he turned the season into summer.

It was now a really hot summer day!

Annie shouted, "Rocket is flashing his red light."

June said, "He is becoming overheated!"

"Rocket is getting weak," shouted Leo. "He's falling toward the ground," he added.

"And Baby Tulip is drooping. She's weak, too," said Quincy.
